To Whom It May Concern,

Any printed map derived from any 'All Topo Maps' product (topographic map or digital elevation model) produced by Igage Mapping Corporation (a Utah Corporation) may be used without attribution or regard for copyright.

All of the base maps available from All Topo Maps are based on digital scans of paper maps produced with no copy restrictions.

We do hold certain rights to digital products derived from historical content. These rights apply only to maps containing complete images of historic maps (filename ending with "_H?") and maps distributed electronically. Thus if a product is distributed on paper, or does not include complete historic map content, then it is always royalty and attribution free.

In addition, we have experience producing maps for color and black-and-white publications. We are happy to provide any assistance with your projects at no-charge.

Thank you very much for using All Topo Maps!
